

Christopher McGregor – UIN:726009537
Section 513

Report

Remote calls take much more time than that of local calls by an average of 0.004 seconds for one call. However, this time increases exponentially for each call. That is, after just 4 calls, the time average is now .0053 seconds. A standard distribution curve can be seen below: